Complains Against Hiring Practices

Donald Roy, Jr., a resident of Spanish Acres and a carpenter by trade, was among one of a group to appear before the Board of Supervisors with a complaint against the hiring practices employed in the construction of a Federal Housing Project known as 643 Turnkey. It was reported that three-fourths of the workers employed were from out-of-state and the work force came from Texas, Ohio and Indiana while qualified local workmen were deprived of employment.

Roy's statement was substantiated by Sheriff Fred W. Currett who said he knew of fifteen laborers already on the job from the Texas-Mexico border area with the prediction that the number would increase to possibly 35 or 50 by the end of the week.

Roy, a veteran of the Vietnam conflict, was returned to civilian life after his brother was killed in conflict in order that he might provide family support. He said that he and other qualified local men would have to leave this area to seek employment if the practice of employing out-of-state workmen continued in this area.

The Board of Supervisors through its president, Russell Elliott, stated the Board had no real authority over city projects such as Turnkey, however, they were interested in promoting local labor pools and letters of protest will be directed to State Congressmen.

Representatives of the Bay St. Louis Housing Authority testified that there was more than enough workmen in the labor pool to fill all construction jobs on the Turnkey project.

It was stated that those in charge of hiring said it took local men two days to put up a framing whereas crews of their hiring could do the same amount of work in six hours. Rumors were that work being done on the project was not up to specification and that income tax materials of 1 grade lower than specifications were being used.

Our Lady of the Gulf Lay Apostolate will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Parish Hall.

All members are asked to attend.

RELIGION COURSE
St. Clare's Parish, Waveland, will conduct an adult religious education course at 7:30 each Thursday night in the outside classroom of St. Clare's Church.

Will Enforce Litter Law
"There is a Mississippi State Anti-Litter Law," said Sheriff Fred Currett, "which will give any of our patrolmen authority to make an arrest anywhere in the County should they apprehend anyone in the act of throwing cans, bottles, trash or litter of any kind."

Currett said he intended to co-operate with the October Anti-Litter campaign and would so instruct his men. Those convicted of littering are subject to fines.

County-Wide Cleanup Campaign Begins Today

Bay St. Louis City Ordinance No. 10, which was adopted August 23, 1965 and made effective as of October 1, 1965, during the mayorship of John A. Scaife with Dan M. Russell serving as City Attorney.

Trash, garbage, littering, weeds and unsightly accumulations on vacant lots were discussed and while in some cases ordinances do not carry a specific fine or penalty for violation there is a "General Penalty" on record which covers any ordinance of the city wherein an act is declared to be unlawful or a misdemeanor with provisions that the offender be fined $300 or by imprisonment in jail not exceeding ninety days, or both.

One ordinance provides permission for the city crews to clean vacant lots, after duly complying with regulations calling for proper notification of the property owner. A fee of up to $100 may be charged against property-owner's taxes to cover this cost.

Students representing county and city schools have volunteered to work in cleaning their school grounds during Clean-Up The County month of October.

An added effort is being made by Felix Seeger, superintendent of public grounds, who has worked out a schedule and map and will see that trash when piled in front of individual residences is picked up. The city, divided by Seeger into areas, will be provided this service on a rotation basis. Seeger said "Should any individual fail to accumulate trash at the specified time then there can be no call-backs and we will proceed to the next designated area until all sections of the city are served." A map and schedule of the first week's trash collection is printed on Page 1, Section B of this issue of the Sea Coast Echo.

Hancock United Fund Campaign

The 1970 Campaign of the Hancock County United Fund will officially open on October 1st, with a goal of $28,000.00. This fund belongs to the people of Hancock County and represents their local charities. Organized in 1964, with more than half of the income each year from neighbors at the Mississippi Test Facility, the charitable and social agencies which receive the funds, have been able to do a tremendous amount of good in the Hancock County area. There are twelve agencies in the fund.

The American Red Cross, received $4,625.00 in 1970. Hancock County Retarded Children's Ass'n. received $4,020.00. Catholic Charities, Inc. $3,500.00; Hancock County Emergency Relief, $2,750.00; Boy Scouts, Cypress District, $2,750.00; Girl Scouts, Gulf Pine Council, $2,750.00; Gulf Coast Mental Health Ass'n. - $1,500.00; Hancock County Blood Bank, $300.00; Gulf Coast Family Counseling Agency, - $500.00; Camp Onward $500.00; The U.S.O. $500.00. The Traveler's Aid Association of America was recently admitted to the fund to take care of our transient problems. These twelve agencies were included in the fund, because there is a need for their services in the community. They are here to serve on a day to day basis, and are an important part of community life, working in the field of emergency.

One important fact should be noted. All three agencies are natives of Hancock County.

This week, meet Coach Anthony "Buddy" Pitilo of St. Stanislaus High School. (See sports page).

County Resources Study Completed

An Evaluation of the Economic Resources of Hancock County prepared by the Mississippi Employment Security Commission of which John E. Aldridge is Executive Director, is now being distributed. This comprehensive study, bound in two volumes, was presented to members of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Monday and other copies were placed in the office of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

"We do not make a practice of handing out compliments," said Russell Elliott, speaking for members of the Board of Supervisors, "but this excellent report is very inclusive and will be a source of invaluable information."

Contents of the volumes are well indexed for easy reference and include up-to-date information on the History, Topography, Climate and Population of the County. A study made of the County's Labor force includes both current labor force and potential labor supply. Hancock County's economic pattern includes income, volume of sales, and a listing of financial institutions. Chapter IV of the first volume deals with manpower resources with current wage rates, water resources, utilities as well as mineral and forestry resources.

There is a listing of Community Facilities i.e. transportation, recreational, schools, churches, medical, library, etc. Potential industrial and business sites are described and there are excellent maps providing information on major highways, roads, waterways, and road networks, the harbor and industrial areas.

The information in these volumes is well documented and provides readily accessible information for anyone interested in economic, business and industrial facts of the County.

Our Opinion Bay Was Beautiful.....

Bay St. Louis WAS beautiful. That was, of course, before the era of no-deposit no-return bottles. In those days very few bottles were noticed in ditches and on the shoulders of the roads.

Bay St. Louis WAS beautiful! That was, of course, before the advent of beer cans with key-openers. It's difficult now to find a side walk or street that isn't littered with keys -- if not both can and key.

Bay St. Louis WAS beautiful. That was, of course, before paper cups and plastic containers and paper milk cartons. Is it now possible to walk a block without seeing discarded refuse such as paper napkins, gum and candy wrappers, cartons or containers?

No, we are not advocating a return to the "Good old days" when beer was brought home in a pitcher and milk bottles had to be washed and returned. We believe the way products are packaged now is much better. There is less likelihood of cutting and drinking contaminated food.

What we are advocating is a return to civic pride. A feeling that Bay St. Louis is OUR town and it is our duty and privilege to make and keep it a town that is beautiful. "Cleanliness is next to godliness" say some of our citizens. They are the ones who police their property three or four times daily picking up refuse that careless or untalented persons have tossed in the ditch, on the side walk or even on their lawn!

This paper believes cleanliness is possible. We believe it is going to take a little effort on everybody's part. We believe it is going to take a little teaching... beginning to teach children should be taught that it isn't "nice" to throw trash. We believe the home-teaching should be carried over into the schools and in both school and home children should have the chore of picking up litter. We believe the grown-ups should be made aware that littering isn't nice -- and in a harsher way. There is a law against littering. A law is only as good as the officers who are responsible for enforcement. Those who litter public property should have a choice. What will it be -- pay a fine or clean the street?

We believe the city officials have a responsibility, too. Are there enough trash barrels placed conveniently so that a person doesn't have to walk or ride very far before they can dispose of unwanted foodstuffs like parts of sandwiches, cookies, etc., as well as containers and paper? Surely we will all cooperate during October, the month designated as CLEAN UP Month. Let's not only GET the town clean, let's KEEP it clean. Bay St. Louis WILL be beautiful again when each of us believes it our personal responsibility to make it so.

Help United!

You may soon be asked by some volunteer worker representing the United Fund to make a donation. You may, or may not, have time to listen when this person attempts to tell you when you give the United Way you are actually helping more than a dozen worthwhile causes.

A list is available showing the official names of each of these organizations. It is possible some causes may be included on the list to which you do not care to make a contribution. In that event you have the privilege of naming only the organization or organizations to which you wish to donate.

Giving the United Way is another example of efficiency. It surely is much better to write one check than to write several. There is less time -- both yours and the volunteer's -- consumed in making calls. Time is a precious commodity. It is the stuff of which life is made. Charles Kingsley once said: "Nothing is so infectious as example". We could not have enough of further efficiency and helpfulness by deciding how much our budget will allow us to give to the United Fund. Decide, too, about preferences in organizations to receive help.

There are four of us to help you. Simple arithmetic tells us in order to meet our quota we must each give MORE. There is no truer statement than "It is better to give than to receive." How fortunate we are to be able to help others, and to help in so many ways!

A Conservative View

by James J. Kilpatrick

It is an ancient observation that there is no such thing as a free lunch. There are many Souths. And now the truism has been turned on its head.

Yet a reporter who spends a few days traveling by car, deep in Dixie, finds a common thread binding much of the South together. The thread has a nice ironic twist to it -- a twist not lost on white Southerners themselves. They invented the doctrine of "separate but equal," and applied it hypocritically for nearly a hundred years. Now they are on the receiving end of discrimination; they are protesting at the top of their lungs; and they are demanding equality under the law.

It might be funny if there were not such incipient tragedy mixed with it. For all the superficial tranquility with which levels of desegregation have been accepted, the tensions are running high. In Richmond, Charlotte, Atlanta, Mobile, Jackson, one encounters the same bitter resentment. One hears it expressed at service stations and lunch counters, in the homes of old friends. Newspapers are overflowing with letters making the identical point: When it comes to the racial composition of public schools, it is a harsh rule for the South, and no rule at all for anyone else.

Mississippi's able attorney general, Albertus Sumner, has been traveling widely in recent weeks in an effort to expose the situation and to publicize the South's valid grievance. The schools of his own State have been subjected since early this year to the Draconian edicts of the Fifth U.S. Circuit. Mississippi also has had to bear the stinging criticism of Minnesota's Senator Walter Mondale, a traveling evangelist for the virtues of coerced integration.

Judge Sumner looks about the South, and he sees a blizzard of court orders to the same effect.

Robert Chapman

Robert Chapman, 75, died early Saturday, September 26, at his residence, 205 Watts Street, following an extended illness.

He was a veteran of World War I, a member of Morning Star Baptist Church and a member of the Promote Society.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Lucy Mae Lewis Chapman; a niece and a number of nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Morning Star Baptist Church followed by interment at 2 p.m. in Cedar Rest Cemetery.

Sidney M. Toca

Sidney M. Toca, 70, a native of New Orleans and a former Bay St. Louis resident, died at 11:10 p.m. Friday, September 25. He was the husband of Gladys Cooke and father of Mrs. Phillip G. Condon and Melvin M. Toca.

Son of the late Nemea Le Febvre and James L. Toca Sr., he is also survived by three brothers, James L. Toca Jr., Edwin P. and Robert D. Toca and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday morning from the funeral home of Jacob Schenck and Son, Inc., followed by a Requiem Mass at St. Francis Cabrini Church, Interment was in St. Louis No. 3 Cemetery.

Mrs. Violet Moore

Mrs. Violet Ivcevic Moore of Waveland, widow of Chester Thaddeus Moore, deceased, died in Touros Hospital, New Orleans on September 28, 1970.

She was a retired U.S. Internal Revenue Agent (one of the few women agents in the U.S. Civil Service), and since her retirement at age 55 has been very active in Waveland and Bay St. Louis community affairs, as an art teacher at Charles Episcopal school, and an artist in oil painting and ceramics.

She was a member of The Hancock Art League (formerly President of the League); Gulf Coast Art Association; Biloxi Art Association; The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club; and the Metropolitan Club, Biloxi.

She is survived by her daughter, Linda Diane Moore, a sister, Mrs. Katherine Randolph Pounce, Denver, Colorado, an aunt, Mrs. Barbara Berdus of Washington, D.C., Mrs. Albert Powell Drouhard, Pa.; nephews Joseph and Paul Pounce of San Francisco, California and a Harry Pounce of Denver, Colo.

Funeral services for Mrs. Moore were held at 10 a.m. at St. Paul's Catholic Church, Waveland, with Rev. Joseph Powell Drouhard, Pa., officiating. Interment was in St. Paul's Cemetery, Waveland.

Neighborhood schools must be broken up; children must be bused by the thousands to obtain racial balance; faculties must be integrated without regard to the teachers' wishes -- and if parents do not like it, well, let the parents be charged with expense to fall, threatened with expulsion to fall. All right, says Judge Sumner, if this is what the Constitution demands, the Constitution must demand it everywhere. But how, he wonders, could the gentleman from Minnesota have overlooked the opportunities for evangelism in his own home State?

During the past school year, some 60,000 pupils attended the 101 schools of Mississippi. Of these, 5,500 pupils, or 8.1 percent, were black pupils. The great bulk of these black pupils of Mississippi were concentrated in a handful of schools -- at Ray, Bethune, Wilford, and Field elementary schools, at Lincoln and Bryant Junior High Schools, and at Central and North High Schools. Meanwhile -- horrible to contemplate -- such elementary schools in Mississippi as Morris Park and Lovell were 100 percent black. One black child in an enrollment of 516, Purnam had one in 455, Corcoran had seven in

WORMING CATTLE

Lack of weight, rough hair coats, swelling under the throat and diarrhea are all symptoms of wormy cattle. These stomach worms can cost you money, so get rid of them.

Two recommended materials to use for worming cattle are thiabendazole and phenothiazine. Make sure you use them only as directed. See your local county agent for a copy of the Guide to Livestock Parasite Control.

DAIRY FEEDING

Proper feeding of dairy cows at this season could pay off in big dividends. Records indicate that a cow fed properly from three weeks before freshening to 90 days after freshening will produce 1000 to 2000 more pounds of milk in a year than will a cow that has just average feeding and management. At $3 a hundred pounds for milk this would mean $60 to $120 more per cow per year.

Do not wait until November to open up the silo. Feed your best forage now while the cow is fresh. Try challenge feeding. Stay ahead of the cow. Don't neglect the protein needs. Corn silage and grass hays are both low protein rations so a cow depending on these types of forage will need an 18 to 20 percent crude protein ration.

If the cows have lush temporary winter or summer grazing to graze, then they will probably need only a 16 percent crude protein ration.

A good rule of thumb for forage feeding is to feed two and a half pounds to top quality hay per 100 pounds of body weight. Figure on three times as much silage as hay. For instance, a 100 pound cow will need 25 pounds of hay or 75 pounds of good silage a day.

WINTERIZE YOUR LAWN

Now is the time to get your lawn ready for winter. It needs help to withstand traffic, cold weather and weed competition. Weed control is an important item. You can prevent competition from winter weeds if you will apply a recommended pre-emergent herbicide now. Cut back on your nitrogen fertilizer and stop up the phosphate and potash. For each 1,000 square feet of lawn, use the equivalent of 15 pounds of 0-20-20 fertilizer. You can use a specialty fertilizer with the herbicide added.

For winter color on existing lawns over seed with ryegrass or creeping red fescue. Before seeding prepare the lawn by closer mowing and light fertilization.

STOR SOYBEAN LOSSES

Last year American soybean growers lost 13 percent of their total crop on the ground. This amounted to a loss of 145 million bushels valued at $200 million. The combined losses of soybeans and other crops when the beans are at 15 percent moisture are twice the best ways to cut these losses. Soybeans combine speeds about three miles per hour cause large increases in harvest losses.

Forestry Report

HELP!

We need yours and had! There has been much talk about the fire season this year and it's not just rubbish. Most of the talk is being done by those who are concerned and these people are well aware of the destruction and vastness the fire season brings with it each year in Hancock County. If you're not already aware of the damage brought to Hancock County, one of the hottest counties in the state, by the fire season each year, take a look at the figures. This table shows the 1968-70 fire season in terms of the number of fires and the number of acres burned and their total in Hancock County separated by months.

	# of Fires	# of Acres Burned
Sept.	19	492
Oct.	15	405
Nov.	25	332
Dec.	28	1362
Jan.	32	547
Feb.	89	3100
March	49	1481
April	38	424
May	9	424
Total	303	8485

These stunning figures made Hancock County second in the state in total number of fires and total acres burned. To cure our ills we must look at the cause. Seventy percent of all fires in Hancock County are located in range 14 of townships 6 and 7. This is the area around Kila and Neelie Crossing and believe it or not most of the fires are set purposely. As of yet no justifiable reason has been given for doing so. Some one must be misinformed about what our hay industry is in Hancock County.

As is shown by the figures in the table, in the month of February, which was the peak of the fire season, there was an average of 3 fires a day. From these fires a pattern is formed. Most all of them began between 3:00 and 6:00 p.m. which is the period of time most people in the county are en route from their jobs to their homes. It is at this time that men either purposely or carelessly start the life line of Hancock County, our timber land. The Mississippi Forestry Commission in the county is doing all it can to suppress the number and vastness of forest fires but without your help and cooperation our efforts are useless.

Mississippi is NOW number "1" in the nation in the number of forest fires per year and Hancock County is number "2" in the state, nobody says, "Only you can prevent forest fires," and you know it's barely possible the old fellow may know what he is talking about.

Mississippi's state produced tree seedlings are one of the best buys today. Seedlings can be purchased for a very nominal fee.

The first thousand seedlings are free, then $6.00 for each additional thousand. Transportation charge is fifty cents per thousand for both free and purchased seedlings.

The Forestry Commission's seedling program is a service which pays its own way, and benefits the taxpayer. The operation of the State Nurseries has always been aimed at producing seedlings of a break-even point.

At this time approximately 21 million seedlings are still available. Many landowners in the past have waited too late to make an application for their seedlings. You should order your seedlings now to get the desired species. Contact Miss. Forestry Commission or any Agricultural Agency to make your application. The seedlings will be delivered during the winter months.

Telephone Expansion Includes Hancock County

Franklin Kyle, district manager for South Central Bell's Gulf Coast operations, announced a wide-ranging expansion project involving two counties, Hancock and Harrison. This program calls for a capital investment of approximately 20 million dollars, and in addition to the more than 10 million dollars spent to restore old facilities damaged and destroyed by Hurricane Camille, it will provide new and improved service throughout the two counties.

Construction on the record-size expansion project will begin immediately but, due to the extensive engineering and large amounts of complex equipment required, it will take some time to complete. The company expects the work to be completed in the next thirty-six months.

According to Kyle, the telephone exchanges involved in the program include: Biloxi, Gulfport-Long Beach, Pass Christian, Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Pearlport. Large amounts of construction will be required in each exchange. Kyle said, "Involving new buildings, telephone switching equipment, outside telephone facilities, telephones and associated equipment."

Other items provided for by the program are:

Expansion of Base Rate Areas (that portion of an exchange where telephone service is furnished at base rates that do not vary with the customer's distance from the telephone office).

Chairmen for the various projects of the club include: Mrs. Dan M. Russell, HANDBS chairman and Co-ordinator of Environmental Improvement Program; Mrs. A. E. Volgt, HANDBS Chairman; Mrs. William Terry, Environmental Science Junior Leader; Mrs. William A. Combs, Bay Junior High Garden Club; Mrs. Charles H. Elliott, O.L.G. Junior Gardeners; Mrs. Richard J. Ballinger, High School Gardeners; Mrs. Augustus Elmer, Horticulture Chairman; Mrs. John W. Witterson, Anti-Litter Chairman; Mrs. Reuben F. Gray, Bay St. Louis Beautification; Mrs. Jos. E. Viguerie, Waveland Beautification; Mrs. G. Danahagan, Highway Beautification. Mrs. George Sougarau, Jr., is the president of the club.

Writing Koyl

In writing a Feature Story about Waveland's Town Hall, which appeared in Section B, Page 4, September 24 issue, Joe Pilet (author of the account) inadvertently hit the number 7 instead of 7 -- on the 1959 typewriter. This put Mayor Barfield Ladner's age at 71 when in reality his Mayorship was born in 1899 and is seventy-one years young. An apology is in order. Sorry.

Presidents Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the East Hancock Vol. Dept. will be held Friday, Oct. 2, 8 p.m., at Ladner Grocery Store, Clermont Harbor. All members please attend.

the location and type of service. He further said a program of this magnitude will necessitate a nominal adjustment of our basic exchange charges. This adjustment in rates is necessary to offset costs in material, labor, and capital which the company has experienced in recent years. Mr. Kyle also pointed out that the basic charges in effect at the present are the same as those established for Mississippi in 1951 except for consumer taxes such as state sales tax, which has been added as they became effective.

"Subsequent stories will keep Harrison and Hancock Counties informed of our progress," Kyle concluded.

Cedar Rest Cemetery Preserves History

by Joe Pilot, Staff Writer
Interest has been revived in the old Cedar Rest Cemetery and according to reports from the City Hall the grounds have now been filled to capacity. There have been reports from cemetery workers of excavations being made over unmarked graves and as many as three coffins being placed on top of the other. The City will in all probability have to close this cemetery authorities believe.

Said to be the oldest tomb in the cemetery is that of John B. Toulmo, a native of France, died January 17, 1831 at the age of 61. Toulmo is said to have founded not only the land for Cedar Rest Cemetery, but also the land where the Macale Temple stands, the grounds for the Court House and the Methodist Church. Relatives recall that John B. Toulmo left France (date unknown) and went to San Domingo. He was forced to leave this area because of an insurrection. Records reveal that he and his slaves landed in Mobile, and from Mobile came to Bay St. Louis in the early 1800's.

In Bay St. Louis he married Evonia Victorio Suter. His capital at that time was said to be $2,500. He bought a partly finished two-room wooden structure on Union Street, which he turned into a room and here he started married life. He became the first person in Bay St. Louis to go into the mercantile business and accumulated a great deal of wealth. Toulmo acquired property in New Orleans, Mobile and Bay St. Louis. He had six daughters and one son, John V., who was the first man to organize a regiment of soldiers from Hancock County to enlist in the Civil War. John V. Toulmo was also at one time a mayor of Bay St. Louis. There are several interesting graves in Cedar Rest Cemetery that preserve in essence the history of Bay St. Louis. Carol is now being taken to rest in the new grounds to their former home. Those with relatives buried in the plot are assisting and cooperating with the restoration efforts being made by the city.

Sheriff's Report

Willie Peters, colored male, was arrested in Pearl River, Miss., on an alleged charge of grand larceny including the theft of an organ and a TV set, according to a report from Sheriff Fred W. Curet. Trial was set for the court of Judge Lector Hoyor in Pearl River. Officers carrying in the case include Constable Glen Dorr, Deputy Willie Lee, both of Pearl River, and Sheriff Fred Curet. The alleged stolen property was recovered and returned to the owner, a resident of Pearl River. Decision of the Judge will be available for next week's publication.

Sheriff Fred Curet reported the arrest of nine juveniles over the weekend, all charged with larceny in the theft of automobiles. Arresting officers were Robert Tartavouille and Constable Glen Dorr. The youths were tried before Michael Haas, Juvenile Court Referee and turned over to the custody of their parents. Stolen property is said to have been recovered.

Albert Perry, 26, was arrested and charged with the alleged theft of a 1967 sports car from a house taken from Gary Lee Motor Company. Sheriff Curet reported Perry is now in the county jail and is being investigated by Pleasant authorities as a suspect in another theft. Perry is said to have bought 75¢ of gasoline at a local service station and drove the car to Pascagoula where his car ran out of gasoline and he was apprehended.

Animals Neglected By Residents Of Area

Bill Rice, who operates a trucking service for the removal of garbage, reported to Mayor Warren J. Carver that many dogs are being killed along the highway and on the bridge that spans Bayou La Croix. Rice said people from the Bay St. Louis area were making a practice of taking unwanted animals across the bridge and turning them out. These animals, Rice said, wandered around without food and water and eventually returned to the highway in an attempt to locate food or find their way back to their homes and were hit by automobiles.

Rice said it would be more humane to put the dogs in the City Pound where they could be adopted or put to death in a humane manner. Mayor Carver readily admitted difficulty in obtaining an efficient dog-catcher, and said there was an opening at the city hall for anyone interested. Dog owners no longer wanting their pets may take them to the pound personally, or may telephone the Police Station for assistance.

Appointed To Hospital Board

Paul Smith was appointed by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to serve on the Board of the Hancock General Hospital. Smith will replace Chas. Souder who left the Board after having served 11 years.

Senator is a charter member of the organization and his term as President of the Board expires this month. At the next regular meeting of the Board new officers will be elected.

Will Assume New Duties

Mrs. Nolan Ladner who recently resigned her position as director of Nurses at Hancock General Hospital will assume duties on October 1 with the Shiloh Haven Nursing Home, North Beach Boulevard.

Well known in this area, Mrs. Ladner is now in the 36th year of her career as a nurse. Her interest in this profession began when she was a senior in Bay School Ethel Strahan working after school hours in the old St. Street Kings Daughters Hospital. She worked from three to five in the afternoon until seven o'clock at night at the time of what would now be considered a nurses aid training program. Later she was graduated as a Registered Nurse from the Kings Daughters of the Hospital.

During her 12 years of service with Hancock General Hospital Mrs. Ladner was promoted from floor supervisor to Director of Nursing Service and earned a reputation of efficiency in both nursing and teaching.

Following her resignation, Mrs. Ladner with her husband relocated on the West Coast. Prior to leaving on the trip Mrs. Ladner was honored with a party given by the Staff and management of Hancock General Hospital.

"BUDDY" PITILO

by Marileen Maher, Staff Writer
Rock-A-Chow head football coach, Anthony "Buddy" Pitilo, is certainly no stranger to St. Stanislaus. Pitilo attended both grammar school and high school at Stanislaus and has lived in Bay St. Louis most of his life.

When asked how he felt about coaching at his alma mater, Pitilo answered, "It's nice to be here, in my home town and at the school where I spent most of my time when I was young."

After playing football for three years in high school, Pitilo entered Tulane University in New Orleans. His main interest was baseball, however, and it was while playing this sport in his freshman year that Pitilo received an injury that ended a promising athletic career.

Although this injury prevented Pitilo from further participation in sports it did not dull his interest in athletics. "Sports in general definitely adds to the curriculum of any school. Some schools may place too much emphasis on sports but it does play a major role in the development of any boy or girl," Pitilo stated.

Pitilo came to Stanislaus in 1960 as an assistant football coach and was named head coach in 1968. Pitilo noted that all of the football coaches at Stanislaus are from Mississippi.

Commenting on his outlook for this season, Pitilo said, "I was very optimistic about this year's team but we lost four or five boys before the season opened. We'll just have to take each game as it comes and play the best we can."

Pitilo is married to the former Patricia Poolson of Bay St. Louis. They have three children.

Announces Formation of Swimming Team

Brother Lee Barker, S.C., principal of St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, has announced that the first swimming team in the history of the school will be formed this school session. This has been made largely possible by the construction of an Olympic size swimming pool on the campus of St. Stanislaus during the last year. Brother Albert Ledet, S.C., and Mrs. Virginia Wagner have been named as instructors of the swimming team.

The introduction of a swimming team enlarges the wide area of sports available to students of St. Stanislaus on a varsity and intramural level. These sports include football, basketball, track, baseball, tennis, weight-lifting, volleyball and skiing. These recreational facilities at St. Stanislaus represent one of the finest sports programs on the Gulf Coast.

CYO TEAM
Our Lady of the Gulf Junior CYO football team defeated St. Johns CYO, Gulfport, 22-0 in Sunday's game played in Gulfport.

Bay High Rolls Over Hancock 45-6

Last Friday night a record crowd at Tiger Stadium, Bay St. Louis, witnessed the victory of the Bay High Tigers over the Hancock North Central Hawks 45-6. This is the 12th win in as many years for the Tigers over the Hawks.

The Tigers scored minutes after the opening of the game. Steve Allain, a Tiger halfback, scampered 10-yards to pay dirt and Bill Kolstad added the extra point to put the Tigers ahead 7-0.

The Hawks then took the ball over on their own 31-yard line only to have the drive fall for a punt.

J.W. Raul took a punt for the Hawks but fumbled on the 3-yard-line giving the Tigers possession.

Quarterback Gary Blaise handed the ball to Mike Peterson who took it in for the score. The extra point failed giving the Tigers a 13-0 lead.

The Hawks got on the score board when quarterback Mitchell Havard found end Sherman Gardner in the open and hit him with an aerial that covered 64-yards for a touchdown. The two-point extra try was no good, giving the Tigers the half-time lead of 13-6.

Quarterback Blaise wasted little time in the third quarter putting another touchdown on the board after a pass to end Wes McFarland on the 15-yard line good for a score of 19-6. The Tigers made it 25-6 with 11:13 left on the clock when Allain swept the left end on a third and four situation.

Havard attempted a pass that was blocked by Alvin Lafontaine and intercepted by Wes

McFarland for a Tiger touchdown putting the score 39-6. Eric Lymul added the next Tiger score after an on a sweep to the right for 41 yards and a touchdown. The Tigers held a 39-6 lead with 2:19 on the fourth period clock.

Ronald Jamos grabbed a Havard pass attempt and took the intercepted ball 28-yards for the Tigers final score.

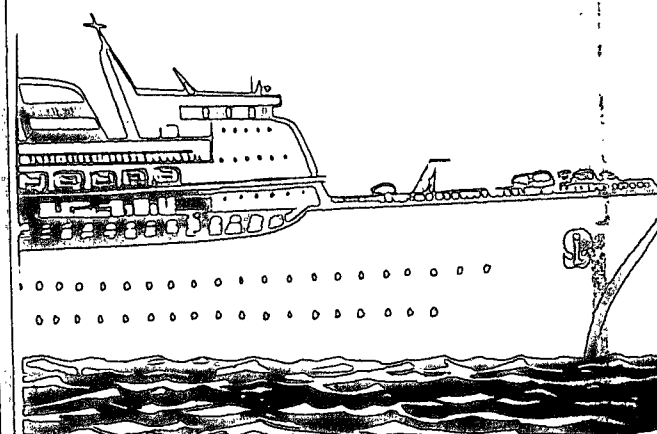

Steve Allain the leading ground gainer for the Tigers had 123 yds. on 14 carries. Eric Lymul had 70 yds. on 6 carries and Mike Peterson had 38 yds. on 7 carries.

The offensive and defensive teams aggressiveness turned every Hawk mistake into a Tiger gain. Interceptions by McFarland and Jamos for touchdowns and five fumbles recovered by Smith, Scanna, Haxling, Gynns, and Ponder are examples of the fine individual and team effort showed by the Tigers.

The Tigers travel to Harrison Central next Friday afternoon to take on the Red Robins who have 2 win, 2 loss record. Game time is 4:00 p.m.

THIS LONG BEACH, Mississippi boy fell into a fire ant mound. Immediate medical attention prevented even more severe reaction to this dangerous stinging ant.

Urges Continued Fire Ant Eradication Program

Agriculture Commissioner Jim Buck Ross said recently that a lawsuit claiming the fire ant is no more of a nuisance than sand flies has brought a barrage of letters from aroused Mississippians opposing any move to block the federal eradication program.

"Apparently, the majority of the 1.6 million Mississippians who live in the 62 counties infested with this imported pest can't go along with the argument that the fire ant is less of a pest than sand flies and dog fleas," Ross declared. "Mothers whose children bear the scars of the painful stings and whose yards, playgrounds, cemeteries and parks are off-limits because of the ants, especially want the fire ant eradicated and rightly feel antagonized when these vicious ants are written off as mere nuisances."

He said the letters urging continuation of the eradication program which had reached his office, were being sent by state residents to President Nixon, as well as to Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin and to Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel.

The suit was filed last month in federal court in Washington, D. C., by the two environmental groups seeking to halt the U.S. Department of Agriculture in its efforts to launch an eradication program in the nine Southern states where infestation is heavy.

Homemakers Hold Meeting

Young Homemakers of Bay St. Louis met for their September meeting in the home of Mrs. Louis Prendergast with Mrs. Donald Baker as co-hostess.

The group worked on their project, making stuffed toys to be given in-patient children at Hancock General Hospital.

Plans to participate in the County fair to be held in November were discussed.

Mrs. Floyd Holland and Mrs. Baker were named new phone committee chairmen.

Miss Dixie Parker, Home Economist, was a guest of the group.

The next meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., October 21, in the home of Mrs. Baker with Mrs. Bobbie Durbin as co-hostess.

4-H Swine Program

"Pigs are beautiful" 110,000 4-H members contend. They are the youngsters who are enrolled in the 4-H swine program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

And working daily with the project animals, the young people agree that the beautiful porkers are alert, clean, smart and adaptable. The 4-H'ers also say that pigs are fun to raise and show and profitable when shipped to market.

Looking beyond the pleasure and profits, several thousand young 4-H'ers see recognition for a job well done. And they will not be disappointed a 3 Moorman Mfg. Co. of Quincy, Ill., provides county, state and national awards for the 13th consecutive year.

Through the National 4-H Service Committee, the company offers six $600 scholarships to national winners and an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress to each state winner. Medals of honor are awarded county winners. And on the basis of previous response some 6,000 are expected to be honored at special events in communities across the country this fall.

Selected by representatives of the Cooperative Extension Service, the state winners will be guests of Moorman Mfg. Co. in Chicago, Nov. 29 - Dec. 3.

Topping off five action-packed days of National 4-H Congress will be the naming of national scholarship winners.

The national 4-H swine program offers youngsters educational opportunities in a broad range of economic and science subjects. The 9- to 19-year-olds get firsthand exposure to environmental concerns, nutrition, veterinary medicine, genetics, marketing and management.

For information about the opportunities offered youngsters in the 4-H swine program, contact the local county extension agent or a volunteer 4-H leader.

School Participates In Traveler Program

The students of Annunciation School, in Kiln have begun participation in the Mississippi Economic Council's "Mississippi Traveler" program.

Developed as a means of encouraging elementary school students to visit sites of historical or current interest so as to acquire a greater interest in and appreciation of their state, the program is open to public and private elementary school students fourth grade and above. The program is designed to reach approximately 170,000 elementary students.

In announcing the participation of Annunciation, John Daniel of Scott, chairman of the MEC's Committee on Tourism said, "Teachers and school administrators across the state have reviewed the program and have indicated to the Council their belief in the value of the program as a teaching aid."

The request for the "Mississippi Traveler" brochures for use by local students came from Sister Joan Lorraine, MSBT.

OCTOBER, a crew will be sent into each ward of the City of Bay St. Louis for the purpose of picking up trash and debris. Each ward will be given one full week for this purpose. On October 5 through 10, the crew will be in the area pictured above.

MRS. JOHN WELLS

Miss Susan Clark Weds John Wells

Miss Susan Jay Clark, daughter of Captain and Mrs. John Walter Clark of Bay St. Louis and Hattiesburg, became the bride of Ensign John Timothy Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Franklin Wells of Waynesboro at 3 p.m., Saturday, September 19, in Danforth Chapel, Campus University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg.

Rev. Lamar Martin, pastor Court Street Methodist Church, Hattiesburg, conducted the ceremony before an altar decorated with white candelabra holding tapers on either side and a large sunburst arrangement of yellow and white mums. Vows were said before a priedieu covered with white lace. Greenery banked the prayer rail.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white silk organza and re-embroidered Alencon lace, designed with a cage silhouette, long tapered sleeves and a chapel length train splashed with appliques of lace. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was attached to a band of starched Alencon lace. She carried a small white mink-embroidered Bible from the Holy Land topped with white and yellow rosebuds.

Miss Valda Pittman, Bay St. Louis, maid of honor, wore a yellow organza floor length dress fashioned on Empire lines with the bodice banded in moss green velvet ribbon. She wore a head piece of matching ribbon.

Mr. Wells served his sons as best man. Ushers were Ennis King, Waynesboro, and Charles Wagner, Bay St. Louis.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Gold Room of the Southern Motel, Hattiesburg.

Arrangements of white and yellow mums decorated the reception rooms. A three-tiered wedding cake decorated in white and yellow flanked by silver candelabra holding yellow tapers, centered the bride's table. Mrs. Clark received their guests wearing a lime green short-sleeved dress and the mother of the groom chose a moss green wool sheer.

For traveling the bride wore a black, brown and white herringbone tweed ensemble with a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

The couple will be at home at the U.S. Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Maryland.

The bride attended the University of Mississippi. She is a member of Phi Mu Sorority and a member of Gulf Coast Debutante Society, having made her debut in 1968.

The groom received his degree from University of Mississippi and was commissioned in the U.S. Navy in May of this year.

Little Theatre Names Cast

Suppose you were a young New York housewife. Suppose you had recently lost your sight in an accident. Then suppose you found yourself in a desperate battle of wits upon which your very life depended. From this situation playwright Frederick Knott has developed a non-holds-barred thriller that is guaranteed to have you on the edge of your seat long before the final scene.

Karen Smith, a real housewife from Waveland and mother of three, faces this situation in WAIT UNTIL DARK, the final Little Theatre play of the current season. The leading male role of the show will be played by Michael de Vids, one of the directors of the Slidell Little Theatre and a science teacher in Slidell's St. Tammany Parish School. Both leading roles are extremely demanding and afford the challenge of a lifetime to these two actors. Sup-

LANE LEE has his bull by the horns in the subject. Lane is from the Blenville Club.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

On the Mississippi Gulf Coast there is sports going on year round. Right now the sports are shifting from fishing to hunting. The first part of the dove season ended last Sunday and the second segment starts on November 1st. A few doves were killed here and there, but to our way of thinking, Sept. is too hot to do anything. Starting on Oct. 10th are both the rabbit and squirrel season. Next are the quail and duck seasons. Also, Gallinules, Marsh Wrens, and woodpeckers.

Fishing for both fresh and salt water fish is good this year and with shrimp, crabs, and oysters. It is also a year round sport. In the past, Pass Christian has been a place where the fish are good. Siding, baiting and fishing are good first during the summer months. Camps and homes on the beach and subdivisions afford lots of fun for residents and non-residents.

Progress is being made on the Bayou La Croix Marina redevelopment program. When finished it will be a show place as well as a haven for fishermen.

To mention a few fishing spots that cater to those who go to fish are Roy Baxter's camp at Pearllington, Kelly's camp on Mulatto Bayou, La France's camp on Campbell Bayou, Bordage Brothers on Bayou Caddy and Alfred Cosulich on Jordan River. At most of these camps live and other bait can be had as well as launching facilities and boats.

Did you know that flounders can be speared until December. A good place to spear them is in Campbell's Upper Bayou. They lie on the shelf just before the drop-off.

There are plenty of green trout caught in the canals down by Waveland and the head of the pipe line canal. The canals that run along the railroad track are full of bass and perch.

Starkville, Miss. The insecticide Mirex being used in a nine-state program to eradicate fire ants in Southern states may also destroy crawfish and shrimp, researchers have reported.

Dr. J. L. Ludke, a biologist and an executive of the committee for Leaving the Environment of America Natural (CLEAN), said his research and that of another biologist shows the insecticide threatens aquatic life, especially crawfish.

He said if the extensive use of the chemical continues, serious consequences with regard to the shrimp, crabbing and crawfish industries could result.

Camille Schaefer, Jack Kramer and Julian Lorenzen and their wives had a profitable fishing trip last week.

From hear say we understand that some fish were caught and that the men were fishing under instructions from the ladies who are experts at catching fish.

Sylvan Ladner has been catching some nice bass. Sylvan also loves to hunt. Dove hunting we think is his favorite sport.

Doctor Emil Bertucci has been doing some teal duck hunting. Haven't gotten the dope on how many he and the boys have killed.

Two excuses for drinking: To prevent catching cold and to cure the cold you caught. Seems like there are a hundred more reasons some fellows use.

Several hunters were arrested for hunting doves out of season and given stiff fines. We know it is a temptation to see plenty of birds and not shoot them. It is much nicer to wait for the next season and much cheaper, too.

Tut Monti is talking about going back to dove hunting again after quite a lay off. Tut is one of our best dove hunters.

Haven't heard or seen Bob Von Ehren or Bon Mutter Inter-

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK
JOHN BREAL, new to come but old to us, is a real fisherman. He loves any kind as long as he is catching something. John and his wife are enjoying his new boat, motor and trailer.

ly. Wonder if they are still doing some fishing? Hard crabs are really giving Bob.

Even Weedy the Woodpecker is not safe with a lot of amateur hunters roaming the woods. Be a good hunter. Be careful, be cautious, be courteous to those who let you hunt in their fields. Close all gates. Be sure you know what you are shooting at before pulling the trigger.

One good way to cook those big red fish is to tenderloin them and cut into cubes about an inch square, then fry well. They make a real seafood delicacy.

Have not heard of many frogs being caught this season. There are some big ones up Black and Mills Bayous. Caught a couple on the fly rod recently. Believe it or not frogs will strike a fly bug just like a green trout. Throw the bug behind it and retrieve slowly.

Won't be long before trolling for both speckles and green trout will be the order of the day. Trolling with a fly rod for bass is a lot of fun. Use most any kind of under water lures.

Monti Rhodes prefers to hunt. He is anxiously waiting for the duck season to open. Won't have to wait too long, Monti.

Sam Mitchell who is retired is now living in Waveland. Sam loves to fish and hunt but mostly enjoys catching hard crabs.

From the grave yard route his wife, Ruby, does most of the catching and cooking of the big claw hard shells. Sam is a personal friend of Clayton and Bob Seely.

One of our best sports is Clarisse Villere of Clarisse's in Waveland. Don't have much time to go fishing. Too busy listening to the stories told by

Thirteen Lucky Number For Pearl River Team

Pearl River Junior College Wildcats pulled their thirteenth consecutive win and their 33rd conference victory of the season against an overmatched North-west Junior College in Columbia Saturday night Oct. 1.

The victory over the Rangers gives the Wildcats a 3-0 season record and a wide margin for the Southern Division Championship in the Junior College Conference.

Northwest was plagued throughout the game by fumbles, losing the ball 5 times through fumbles, two of which went for scores by the Wildcats, and PRC was threatening inside the 20 yard line on the game end, also on a Ranger fumble.

The first score of the game came late in the first period as freshman Defensive End Van Boldan recovered a Ranger fumble on the Northwest 15 yard line. Two plays later Sophomore Quarterback Dennis Wilson carried it over from the five yard line for the first of two touchdowns by Wilson. The PAT by Glennis Penton was good and the Cats led Northwest 7-0.

Wilson, who completed only 3 of 7 passes for 37 yards, with one pass interference, did his best work for the night as a runner, in 10 carries Wilson picked up 95 yards for the Wildcats, scoring two touchdowns and setting up a third.

The Wildcats completely dominated the first three periods of play, picking up two more touchdowns in the second period. The first of which was set up by a running play when Wilson took to the side lines for 37 yards and putting the ball within scoring position for Jerry Washington who on the next play, picked up twenty yards for the score. The point after by Glennis Penton was good for a 14-0 lead.

Again in the second period Wilson broke from his protectors and scrambled 28 yards for the third Wildcat touchdown, as Penton kicked his third extra point of the night and the half ended 21-0.

The Rangers who were looking for their first win under their new coach Ken Bramlett couldn't seem to get their offense moving against the strong PRC defense. When halfway through the third period Defensive Guard Wayne Smith recovered a Northwest fumble in the end zone, the game was all but over for the Rangers. Danny Powell kicked the point after for the final score for the Wildcats.

With the game on ice, Coach Russell substituted freely giving the freshmen members of the squad plenty of game time experience.

The Rangers Quarterback, Darryl Walter, met strong opposition in the air completing only 5 of 15 passes with one interception against the Wildcat defense, but one of the passes set up the only Ranger score.

USM To Administer Teacher Examinations

The University of Southern Mississippi has been designated as a test center for administering the National Teacher Examinations on Nov. 14, Dr. Conrad Welker announces.

College seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require applicants to submit their scores on the NTE along with their other credentials are eligible to take the tests, according to Welker, assistant dean of the College of Education and psychology.

At the one-day session a candidate may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in Professional Education and General Education, and one of the 17 Teaching Area Examinations which are designed to evaluate understanding of the subject matter and methods applicable to the teaching area.

Bulletins of information describing registration procedures and containing Registration Forms may be obtained from Dr. Welker, Box 23, Southern Station, Hattiesburg, Miss., 19401, or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, New Jersey, 08540. Prospective teachers planning to take the test should act promptly, Dr. Welker advised.

Reading Conference

All interested teachers and parents are invited to attend the first reading conference of the Bay-Waveland chapter of the International Reading Association on Tuesday, October 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the St. Stanislaus school library. The featured speaker of the conference will be Brother Rene Le Blanc S.C., who will discuss ways and means by which teachers and parents can help the slow learner both in the classroom and at home.

Brother Le Blanc did his graduate work in the reading field at Rhode Island University and is at present the director of the reading program at Brother Martin high school in New Orleans.

her friends and customers. Has friends galore.

Sam Benigno is looking pretty pale. Better go fishing and get some sunshine buddy. Indoors and outdoors work together.

Archie Diebold, retired from the Western Union Telegraph Co., in New Orleans has his home in Waveland. He does any kind of fishing and goes whenever the weather permits. Pretty good at catching them, too.

Drank a new beer. The S&S beer. It was paid for by Seely and Seymour jointly. Rather tight?
